

1.	Course title	Business and Management
2.	Course code	F18L1W005
3.	Semester	1
4.	Unit offering the course	Faculty of Computer Science and Engineering
5.	ECTS	6
6.	Goals of the study programme
	Developing managerial skills: technical, conceptual, communication, analytical. Adoption of frameworks, concepts, models and techniques in the field of management. Presentation and analysis of case studies and best management practices from multiple business areas and case studies of individual businesses.
7.	Contents of the study programme
	Basic concepts and definitions of management; enterprises and management; history of management science; the limitations and challenges management faces today; change management and innovation; managing social responsibility and ethics; managers as decision makers; basics of planning; strategic management; planning tools and techniques; traditional and modern types of organizations design; human resource management; career management; team management; understanding the individual behavior; managers and communications; motivating employees; leadership; controlling; operation management; management in a global environment.	